1. Service overview

Doncaster Youth Offending Service (YOS) works with children, young people and their families to prevent and to challenge offending, encourage responsibility, develop victim empathy and reduce fear of crime in communities

Youth Offending Teams were formed in England and Wales in April 2000 under the Crime and Disorder Act 1998, providing a multi-agency approach to preventing offending by children and young people. Doncaster Youth Offending Service consists of around 50 professionals including health, probation, youth justice, social work, education, housing, Connexions, substance misuse and police backgrounds. The Service is divided into three areas of responsibility, Interventions Team, Case Management Team and a small Court Team

Doncaster YOS has four strategic aims, set by the Youth Justice Board (YJB)

- Preventing offending
 - This function remains a responsibility for the Youth Offending Service however delivery has been incorporated within the new Integrated Family Support Service. Doncaster YOS provides continuous support to this by working with young people who receive youth cautions and youth conditional cautions to reduce any further criminal activity
- Reducing re-offending
 - The Youth Offending Service concentrates all its resources to reduce re-offending to the lowest possible level. Recent results show that of the 162 young offenders in the 2011 Doncaster cohort only 64 re-offended. This resulted on only 151 new offences throughout the year. Many of these are high risk offenders with complex behaviour issues. The YOS will work hard to ensure these figures continue to reduce in 2013/14
- Ensuring the safe and effective use of custody
 - Doncaster YOS works very closely with the Magistrates and Crown Court services to ensure that custody is used in all appropriate cases and also that the most intensive community supervision is recommended for other young offenders who commit serious offences but do not receive custodial sentences. The Youth Justice Board and Doncaster YOS recognise the need to reduce the use of custody whilst balancing the need for a strong approach to offending. The Youth Rehabilitation Order allows us to do that. The introduction of the Legal Aid, Sentencing and Punishment of Offenders Act 2012 (LASPO) will also support this.
- Increasing victim and public confidence
 - Doncaster YOS has had some excellent results from working with victims of crime by young offenders and is working very closely with Police and Third sector to build on this in 2012/13. This work will continue through our partnership with REMEDI.

Pre-crime prevention work has been moved into a borough wide delivery programme through a Integrated Family Support Service. This work largely takes place through programmes delivered by our partners, where the emphasis is strongly on working with the families and parents of young people at risk of offending as well as the young people themselves. The aim is that problems or behaviours which may result in criminal or anti-social behaviour are tackled constructively at a very early stage. Our work to help young people stop offending takes place on a statutory basis, commencing with police cautions or conditional cautions through to sentencing following a court conviction. The YOS makes assessments across a number of important areas of young people's lives and delivers a range of interventions aimed at helping them change their behaviour. Through LASPO, the YOS has identified a small number of dedicated staff who support the police to deliver a restorative justice approach to first time offenders, and a Triage system of decision making and support in the custody area. Decisions are made with regard to community restorative work, cautions, conditional cautions or court action. In many cases full assessments are required prior to effective decision making. This puts the YOS at the centre of the process and requires clear and accurate assessment of young people.

Continuing this high quality service to people of Doncaster affected by the crimes of young people in a climate of increasing budgetary pressure will once again be our biggest challenge in the year ahead. The Youth Justice Board have indicated that new methods to calculate their grant to all Youth Offending Teams will be introduced during 2013/14 and this is expected to have a serious negative impact on the allocation to Doncaster over the next three or four years.

We will continue to work alongside neighbourhoods and communities. We will share information appropriately to support Neighbourhood groups and initiatives, including Neighbourhood Action Groups and Joint Action Groups. We will attend relevant meetings and panels within neighbourhoods. We will support the Doncaster troubled families initiatives to work closely with all our partners to impact on the lives of the most difficult to reach families in the most positive way possible.

Doncaster YOS continues to involve Doncaster residents by recruiting and training Volunteers and Community Panel members. There is a new intake of volunteers (currently 32) awaiting training under a new programme identified by the Youth Justice Board. All volunteers will be trained in all available roles, mentoring, panel members or supporting young people with reparation work. This helps to increase public confidence in the work and ability of the YOS to manage young offenders in the community.

We will continue to work closely with courts to get the most appropriate sentences for young offenders and we will use the higher tariff disposals within the Youth Rehabilitation Order for those young offenders who are given community orders for serious offending. This has worked well in the last few years and Doncaster has a proud record of reducing re-offending over this period as well as reducing first time entrants. 2011 was no different in that only 64 out of 162 offenders from 2010 re-offended in 2011. The balance of custody or community sentences has worked well for Doncaster over this period, but the YOS understand the need for a strong approach to managing serious offending behaviour. To enable this to happen partner agencies (Police, Probation and Health) second staff to the YOS with the skills to ensure that young offenders are discouraged from re-offending, and those that are high risk offenders are effectively managed

2. Corporate context

The Head of the Youth Offending Service is one of four Heads of Service reporting to the Assistant Director Children and Young People's Service (CYPS), Children and Families. At a local level, the YOS works closely with Doncaster Community Safety Partnership, particularly the Anti-Social Behaviour Unit and the Safer Doncaster Partnership as well as being an integral part of the Children and Young People's Service.

Doncaster YOS contributes to the outcomes in Doncaster's major plans:

- Children and Young People's Service Improvement Plan
- Council Business Plan
- Children and Young People's Plan
- Safeguarding Action Plan

More broadly, the Youth Justice Board monitors the performance of youth justice teams across the country through the Youth Justice Planning Framework, supported by the collection of performance and other data. The three Youth Justice National Indicators which inform local government assessment are:

- Numbers of first time entrants into the Youth Justice System (Prevention)
- Numbers of children or young people sentenced to custody
- Proven re-offending rates for children and young people

Doncaster YOS Management Board meets 4 times a year. In line with best practice guidelines from the YJB the Doncaster Management Board includes representation from South Yorkshire Magistrates Courts, Housing, Connexions as well as the four statutory partners Local Authority, Probation, Health and South Yorkshire Police.

The Board is directly responsible for:

- delivering the principal aim of reducing offending and re-offending
- strategic performance oversight
- ensuring the effective delivery of justice services for children and young people.
- accountability and representation of youth justice issues within the local authority

3. Vision for service

Doncaster YOS will continue to work with children, young people and their families to prevent and to challenge offending, encourage responsibility, develop victim empathy and reduce the fear of crime.

Doncaster YOS has made substantial improvements over recent years, across most of our National Indicators. We have contributed to making Doncaster a safer place by reducing first time entrants reducing recidivism and maintaining a good percentage of young people in education training or employment. The Youth Justice Board has again identified Doncaster YOS as a 'green' rated YOS in all areas of delivery

Over the next 3 years we will work with partners to sustain and build on these successes, although this needs to be set against a backdrop of financial uncertainty and potential changes in the direction of national policy.

Central Government has announced that the Youth Justice Board will diminish in size and responsibilities and be incorporated into the Ministry of Justice, however will remain as an organisation. A new review of this has recently been announced.

Funding to YOS from all sources has been reduced and many grants have now ended. Funding streams that came from the Home Office have now been removed and handed to the new Police and Crime Commission (£50,000 in 12/13 which was recovered by YOS to work with substance misuse, and £70,000 more in 13/14). Like all YOT's Doncaster has to rise to the challenge of recovering this funding through effective practice. YJB funding streams allocated to the YOS will reduce again this year by approximately 8.8%. The recommendations from the review of the YJB could have a significant impact on the capacity of Doncaster YOS. The figures for 2013 /14 show an overall reduction to YOS funding of £162,000.

Central Government has now devolved the cost of young people remanded in custody to the local authority. In the case of Doncaster, the cost in 2012/13 was approximately £160,000. New legislation is expected to reduce the number of young people remanded into custody, as well as reducing the length of any remand period. However funding given to the local authority to meet these costs is expected to fall short of the amount required by around £50,000.

Working within the new funding arrangements, Doncaster YOS will deliver against its plan and will restructure to allow staff to work with police to deliver the requirements of LASPO

Doncaster YOS will continue to work with IFSS and other partners to maintain a balance between preventative and intensive intervention.

For those young people who do offend, the establishment of the Scaled Approach has meant that the YOS is better able to meet assessed individual needs. However sustaining any overall increases in face to face interventions on a diminishing budget will continue to be a challenge. Close multi agency partnership working will be key to meeting additional needs that increase the risk of recidivism. Working within the One Team Working programme will support Doncaster YOS to deliver effective interventions through a strong partnership approach.

It is hoped that should an inspection be forthcoming in the next three years Doncaster YOS will be able to give a strong account for itself, but this needs to be balanced against budget pressures and workload. It is our intention to work with all partners and inspectors to incrementally improve our performance and outcomes and to promote public confidence in youth justice services in Doncaster.

4. Customers/users

Doncaster YOS works with young people aged from 10 (the age of criminal responsibility) to 18 (when they are transferred into the adult criminal justice system and are supervised by the probation service).

In common with other Youth Offending Teams across England and Wales, the nature of the service given to children and young people will depend on the seriousness and persistence of their offending behaviour. Where practicable the YOS will involve itself with Prevention projects, based in high crime areas of the area, work with targeted young people and their families to try and nip problems in the bud and prevent them escalating into criminal or anti-social behaviour, however it is recognised that this remit will fall within the role of the newly created Integrated Family Support Service. Doncaster YOS has responded to the requirements of the new LASPO act by creating a dedicated team to work with all agencies to deliver the requirements of the act specific to YOS. Whilst we would value access to targeted prevention programmes across the locality for all young people at risk of offending, in reality these are geographically based and some suitable young people may fall outside their remit. We plan to work with the emerging IFSS, restorative justice practitioners and the LASPO programme to ensure that no young person falls through the net.

4. Customers/users

If a young person is caught for a minor offence for the first time they will usually receive a community restorative outcome from the police. If they re-offend and the matter is not too serious they will receive a caution or conditional caution from the police and will be offered a voluntary intervention programme by the YOS. In the case of a conditional caution this will consist of a full assessment to determine the most appropriate interventions to be completed. This could consist of intervention for up to three months in duration targeting problematic areas of their lives (such as education attendance or drug or alcohol use) assessed as risk factors for future offending. If a young person continues to re-offend they will go to court and receive a number of different sentences supported by a service from the YOS. The duration, intensity and content of each sentence is determined by both the sentencers and the assessed level of risk posed by the young person.

Whilst we aim to positively engage young people and work constructively with them and their parents/carers, our service users are usually not volunteers and are obliged to maintain contact with us because of the requirements of an order of the courts. Managing non-compliance, ensuring swift follow-up and breach, balanced with engagement, is an essential way of maintaining the confidence of the courts and the public. Where ever possible we aim to maximise compliance by relationship building with the young people and their families and by developing their motivation to build on positive factors in their lives and address their problems constructively. We have introduced a breach/compliance panel to work with young people in an effort to improve their compliance with their order and reduce the number of young people returned to court.

Young people and their parents are involved in planning and reviews interventions at every stage.

We are introducing a system of recruitment which involves a panel of young people in the process for our front line youth justice workers. We will run a small number of young people's consultation events over the year and intend to develop our consultation framework in the future.

We will undergo self-assessment regarding our ability to engage young people, with a view to identifying areas for improvement. This forms part of our action plan for reducing re-offending by children and young people.

Children and young people subject to court orders and their families are not our only customers. Ultimately, our customers are the wider public whose lives are affected by crime and specifically, the victims of the crimes committed by the young people on our books. We have victim liaison staff who will contact victims of the young people known to us in order to provide information and facilitate mediation or reparation. Each victim is invited to give us feedback on the service they have received. We organise a range of community reparation activities and plan to develop mechanisms to enable the public to give their views more effectively about what types of community reparation projects they would like to see.

5. Budget information

Funding commitments for 2013-14 are subject to final confirmation. The information provided is the indicative position as at 01/04/2012. A number of actions may be necessary to manage any further changes in commitments.

Following restructure the core YOS service is likely to receive a total budget of approx. £2.2million. Partner agencies who contribute to the service have all requested a reduction in their overall contributions.

The direction of travels remains uncertain due to the financial climate and potential political change which may also affect future priorities of the government. The new budget allocation has required a re-alignment of service delivery. Further approaches to the PCC should recover some of the prevention grant (approx. £70,000) re-directed this year his office.

The aspiration is that these schemes continue to be a focus for priority for any government, recognising the success and continuing to build on effective intervention programmes and ensure appropriate priority investment to an unpopular but extremely vulnerable young client group, remaining child focused in its delivery of services. Contingency plans are being considered and developed should a material change of direction occur.

6. Workforce planning

Analysis of information from other large cities and from our 'statistical neighbours' have demonstrated that youth justice staff in Doncaster has a balanced caseload for all its staff. The Scaled Approach has now been fully incorporated into deliver processes and this has increased demand on the service. The YOS specific case weighting system allows managers to effectively balance individual workloads. This has enabled the service to reduce its case management team by 1.5 FTE. At the same time expectations around safeguarding, risk management and programmed work are ever increasing. That said, the recent restructures at Doncaster YOS has balanced the workloads of all staff. It is recognised that we are unlikely to be able to increase our staffing levels in the current financial climate and that we need to ensure all staff are trained and supported to work as effectively as possible to meet the challenges ahead.

With a view to developing our capacity for 'end-to-end case management', teams have been re-aligned and all Referral Order work is now undertaken in the Case Management Team. Similarly, all intensive supervision cases are managed from within that team. Programmes need to be developed in order to enhance the quality and range of offence focussed programmes available to address the risk factors for young people who offend. Embedding (and where necessary reviewing) these changes is a major task we commenced in 2012/13. We will continue that programme this year. The Core Thinking Skills programme continues to be developed to support our intervention work. The Criminal Justice Service, delivered in Doncaster on Saturdays has proved to be an essential partner in allowing us to deliver essential work and programmes during the weekend.

Staff and volunteer training remains a priority for the Service. All frontline staff and their managers completed YJB or DMBC or partner sponsored training programmes in 2012/13. An intensive 'in house' programme delivered by senior management has enabled the quality of work in Doncaster to be substantially improved. This work will continue during the forthcoming years as it offers value for money ensuring all staff have a robust understanding of risk and re-offending assessment and its implications in the new legal framework will be a significant challenge.

Recruitment of new staff has been an increasing challenge in the current economic climate, with delays in filling vacant posts. No new staff have been recruited since 2011/12. We have taken positive action to recruit more volunteers who are currently under-represented in our Service. We have reduced our use of sessional workers and training of new volunteers commences in the very near future. This will enable those individuals to support YOS delivery in a variety of areas.

7. How your future plans will be aligned with/or impact on the support service areas shown, or the corporate initiatives

Area	Future Plans & Impact
ICT	Doncaster YOS will continue to review its ICT. Doncaster YOS principally uses the Careworks database and this will be reviewed against alternatives on an annual basis. YOS based staff also input or have access to many more databases. Reviewing this with ICT and partners is designed to ensure that efficient use of ICT is made.
Procurement & Commissioning	Doncaster YOS will continue to consider services for procurement and commissioning in partnership with Children’s Services and Safer Doncaster. Reparation and Unpaid Work for 16 and 17 year old offenders are the largest commissioned contract managed by Doncaster YOS, These have been reviewed and re-commissioned.
Asset Management	The YOS is integrated in the Council’s strategic service asset management plan. Equipment purchased (nominally IT equipment under £600 Per unit) is recorded and maintained on the council’s corporate IT asset register held within the IT service. IT Services are responsible for replacement and renewal of purchased IT equipment under the managed service agreement contract with the YOS.
Property Management	The Councils Asset Management Group review YOS properties to ensure best value and efficient use of resources. Cost of property maintenance is managed through DMBC to ensure efficient use of contractors for jobs and achieve economies of scale for contacts. The YOS will relocate during this financial year to the Colonnades. This will allow much better contact with young people and address the on-going concerns that have been voiced by them with regard to the location of YOS. The service is planning to extend its opening hours to meet client needs with regular late opening and weekend service access now available. The aim of these strategies is to achieve greater flexibility and access for service users.
Equality and Diversity	We will be working closely with DMBC to ensure our practices are appropriate in this area. We will impact assess appropriate new service developments. We will be developing new systems to regularly collect and collate diversity information across the borough to

	identify and manage fair and equal access to services for all young people. All future programmes to be assessed for learning styles and accessibility with the help of our speech and language specialist. Different elements of programmes to be targeted at young people with particular learning needs. We will develop a programme so that all YOS young people out of statutory education provision to be given a reading age assessment.
Efficiency	A number of actions to reduce costs within DMBC guidelines and directives are being implemented. Where savings opportunities are being identified we are working to develop and introduce them. The YOS will move location to Colonnades during 2013 and this will reduce overall running costs for both YOS and Childrens Services. The YOS is also looking at commissioning services where it can to become more efficient and cost effective. Budget holder training for relevant staff will help to ensure that YOS keeps within its budget plans. Managing attendance targets have been tightened to improve attendance, and reduce the number of days lost through sickness. Improved reporting and monitoring of triggers is being introduced to ensure timely action to improve attendance in 2013. Sickness stage review monitoring and consistency of target setting in line with council policies have been put in place. The offender interventions Youth Justice Support worker role will be developed further with a goal of delivering more effective and consistent quality programmes, which in turn should enable better use of limited resources, improve attendance of clients and reduce duplication of effort. Individual sessional support is being remodelled and wherever possible and in conjunction with case managers, more efficient group working models will be introduced.
Consulting	Project 1	Doncaster YOS will work with their commissioned partners in developing plans to give local residents an opportunity to have their say about community reparation projects
	Project 2	Doncaster YOS will continue to support

		a volunteering programme, including recruiting and training community panellists, mentors and support for reparation work.

8. Information Governance

Security

Doncaster YOS data is held within the Doncaster Council network and is subject to the security of the council infrastructure. Access to the Careworks data is protected by first level access to the council network, which is administered by Doncaster Council procedures then secondary username and password access which is administered by the IT and Information team within the YOS. The system has a level of profiling to prevent excessive access and editing rights to data, and a audit trail to track events and actions on accounts to identify the author of changes.

The YOS uses induction and exit procedures to ensure that staff are removed from authorised access to systems on leaving the service.

The YOS database is backed up twice daily as a business critical system and emergency recovery procedures allow for a loss of input data up to 24 hours.

Quality

The YOS complies with data quality audit of the council and data and performance is monitored and challenged at monthly performance and quarterly management board (Partnership) meetings. The YOS employs a system of quality control checks on input data and performance.

The YOS employs a small IT & Information team to analyse and check input data on the Careworks system. An Operational Manager has responsibility for Quality Control to ensure that good practice and accuracy underpin the data entered. An Operational Manager has responsibility to ensure that identified training needs are effectively commissioned or delivered in-house.

Legal and Regulatory Compliance

Doncaster YOS works to ensure that data and information is held and handled in conjunction with all legal regulation, principally the Data Protection Act, the Freedom of Information Act, and the Human Rights Act.

The YOS works with Information Governance, IT security teams and the legal department within Doncaster Council to ensure that the provision of legislation regarding the appropriate legal use of data is upheld and maintained.
