This review is brought on the grounds of prevention of crime and disorder.

Sale of illicit tobacco is a criminal offence, under s92 of the Trade Marks Act 1994 for counterfeit tobacco products, and under Reg.15 of the Standardised Packaging of Tobacco Products Regulations 2015 for smuggled and illicit tobacco products.

Across the UK there is an issue with counterfeit and illicit tobacco sales. This is particularly prevalent in Doncaster town centre.

The trade in illicit tobacco can be defined as the production, import, export, possession or sale of tobacco products which fail to comply with legal requirements.

There are three main sources of illicit tobacco.

1 - Smuggled products - These are legitimately manufactured products that are diverted through the supply chain in their original country of manufacture and smuggled into the UK, often by large organised crime gangs. No tax/duty is paid on these products.

2 - Bootlegged products, sometimes called 'Cheap Whites' - These are again legitimate products purchased in foreign countries with low levels of taxation, generally Eastern European/Russian areas, and smuggled on a small scale by individuals or lower level organised gangs. No duty is paid on these products when they are imported this way.

3 - Counterfeit products - These are illegally manufactured products, made without the consent of the trademark owner. The products are generally made from inferior quality materials and packaged to look like the original products.

Illicit tobacco products are sold for less than legitimate tobacco products, e.g. a packet of Polish Marlboro Gold retails for around £5.50 compared with around £9 for its UK equivalent. The lower cost distorts the market and undermines legitimate and compliant businesses, reducing not only sales of legitimate tobacco at these businesses but also reducing footfall. Legitimate businesses situated near to illicit tobacco sellers frequently complain that their business is suffering as a result.

The trade in illicit tobacco can be a gateway for young people to start smoking as the low cost of product makes the habit more affordable, those trading in illicit tobacco are also more likely to sell to those under 18 as they disregard the restrictions placed on legitimate traders.

The illicit trade also undermines the work done by Stop Smoking Services and health agencies to help people stop smoking.

No tax is paid on these products which means central government loses revenue. It could also be argued that use of these products places an extra strain on Health Services and associated agencies which incurs further costs to both central and local government.

The illicit trade funds organised crime and is increasingly linked to modern slavery.

Illicit products can also contravene safety legislation as the majority of product does not comply with the 'reduced ignition propensity' requirements of the safety standard introduced in 2010.

In practice this means that an illicit cigarette will continue to burn if left unattended. Compliant products will extinguish themselves and therefore pose less fire risk. Smoking causes approximately 3,000 house fires each year, a number of fires can be linked directly to illicit tobacco causing house fires.

One of the many methods Trading Standards use to combat this illicit trade is test purchasing. An operative acts as a normal consumer and visits the shop and asks for some cheap cigarettes.

Intake Mini Market has sold illicit tobacco during one of these test purchase operations.

Please provide as much information as possible to support the application
(please read guidance note 2)

On 1st of December 2017 Mr. Sofi - both the Premises Licence Holder and Designated Premises Supervisor, sold a packet of Marlboro Gold for £6.00

The cigarettes were not in plain packaging and as such did not comply with Reg. 3 of the Standardised Packaging of Tobacco Products Regulations 2015, the sale of such items is a criminal offence under Reg. 15 of the same regulations. The packaging did, in fact, bear text in Polish. This indicates that the tobacco has been imported without the correct duty having been paid, although similar products have been shown to be counterfeit.

The premises has a gantry stocked with genuine tobacco products. The fact that the Marlboro sold were not off the main tobacco gantry is another indicator that Mr. Sofi knew that the stock was illicit and could not legally be sold.

The price is also indicative that there has been no UK duty paid on these products - the minimum excise duty on one pack of 20 cigarettes should be £5.37 as of 20 May 2017 (www.gov.uk/government/publications/rates-and-allowances-excise-duty-tobacco-duty/excise-duty-tobacco-duty-rates).

Officers from this service working together with the Environmental Health Food Team visited the premises on 13th December 2017 and found illicit tobacco products concealed on the premises.

Guidance issued under Section 182 of the Licensing Act 2003 highlights how illegal/smuggled tobacco is viewed by the licensing regime in paragraph 11.27 :-

"There is certain criminal activity that may arise in connection with licensed premises which should be treated particularly seriously. These are the use of licensed premises:

- for the sale and storage of smuggled tobacco and alcohol."

Paragraph 11.28 gives some direction to the licensing authorities and supports using the review procedure when such activities are undertaken.

Mr. Sofi has been the Licence Holder for the premises and the Designated Premises Supervisor since the shop became Intake Mini Market in June 2017.

It appears that he has no regard for his legal responsibilities as both a business owner and a premises licence holder.

The licensee trades to make illegal profit for himself at a cost to the government and the local economy. His actions are detrimental to legitimate traders who lose trade as a result of his ongoing criminality.
