How will this contribute to improving health and wellbeing in Doncaster?

The Life Stage Delivery Plans set out the joint commissioning ambitions for 2022-23 for Starting Well, Living Well and Ageing Well. Each of the plans is focussed on improving health and wellbeing and the specific actions to do so, supported by corresponding outcomes, is detailed within the plans.

The life stage delivery plans have been developed from the plans agreed in 2021-22 and take into account all local knowledge regarding priorities for 2022-23, including those services where actions were accelerated, delayed or superseded during this last year as a result of the Covid-19 pandemic. The plans also reflect the NHS Planning Guidance for 2022-23 and the NHS Long Term Plan.

The actions within the delivery plans have been discussed locally across health and social care commissioners and providers. Amendments have been made based on the feedback from those forums.

Finally, whilst it is noted that every year there are risks associated with plans, 2022-23 continues to have additional risks associated with:

- Further waves of Covid-19, particularly any differing impact of new variants
- System capacity to simultaneously recover a range of areas impacted by the COVID response whilst moving forwards on service development and improvement
- Internal system changes, in particular the South Yorkshire ICB as it goes live from 1 July 2022

These risks will be monitored during the year and reflected in local updates.
