What will the Commission do?

The Commission will be an independent body tasked by the Health and Well-Being Board in Doncaster. It will work to produce a report with some clear areas of focus that will improve well-being for residents.

The Climate and Biodiversity Commission shaped this

The Fairness and Well-being Commission will help to shape this

- Using the Well-being essentials in Doncaster Delivering Together as a framework, the Commission will:
 - Examine existing data, best practice, engage with subject matter experts and the lived experiences of people across the borough
 - Make an assessment as to the completeness and appropriateness of the list of well-being essentials proposed in the Borough Strategy, with a particular focus on four key essentials – income, employment, homes and food
 - Produce a public ‘Commission Report’ which makes specific, practical and interconnected recommendations based on the findings of the process. This will inform a new Health and Well-Being Strategy and wider equalities objectives for the Borough.
 - Produce ways of checking and measuring the impact of addressing poverty and inequality, including a headline 2030 target and a suggested review period.
 - Provide a lobbying voice to advocate for the borough at a Regional and National level.
