The correspondence sets out the importance of protecting agricultural land, given it provides food for our communities, contributes to the economy, and supports biodiversity, and is the foundation of the local agricultural industry. The impacts of the proposal upon countryside views and the character of the local area are also raised. It is stated that the proposed solar development on agricultural land would have significant consequences on both of these important resources. It would result in the loss of prime agricultural land, which could have long-lasting effects on our ability to produce food and maintain sustainable land use practices. Additionally, the visual impact of solar panels can detract from the scenic beauty and rural character of the landscape, potentially diminishing the countryside views that are so valued by our community
